Students who ride the bus . . . remember, balloons of any size are strictly forbidden on school buses due to safety concerns. These include, but are not limited to latex allergies by other students as well as drivers. Students attempting to board the bus with balloons will be instructed by the driver to tell students to either leave them behind or to deflate them and place them in a bag or backpack. Students refusing to leave them behind or deflate them will not be allowed to ride the bus that particular day. This message comes from the Rio Rancho Department of Transportation.
